To whom it concerns:

It is with great pleasure that I am recommending Ashton Stiles for the Tribune's Outstanding Young Citizen Award. Ashton is an ambitious student who is conscientious, kind, and caring. I had Ashton as a student in my Algebra II and College in High School College Algebra classes during her Sophomore and Junior years at Blairsville High School.

Ashton is a hard worker who seeks help when needed. She uses her positive attitude to encourage others around her and is a great participant in class. She is also creative and upbeat. While many students choose to have an easier schedule during their Senior year, Ashton has chosen to take College in High School Statistics, which is an extra mathematics class that she is not required to take.

She is active in extracurricular activities, where she makes positive impact on many in the community. She has volunteered her time at a plethora of organizations and events including mentoring younger 4-H members, assisting with several Bible schools, shoebox donations, and assisting with the Fair Queen Coronation.

She maintains a busy schedule and still manages to work hard at academics. As a result of this hard work both in and out of the classroom, she was inducted as a member of the National Junior Honor Society and has been listed on the honor roll. She has won several titles including Fair Queen. She is a leader, as evidenced by many titles that she fulfills, including two presidencies.

As you can see, Ashton is a bright, highly ambitious young lady. She has gained the necessary time management skills for collegiate level academics and has the talents that will help her to succeed. I highly recommend Ashton for this prestigious award.

Professionally Prepared,

Trisha D. Kaylor
