To Whom It May Concern:

Achieving balance inside and outside of the classroom is a tremendous feat for our students today. Many students spread themselves so thin that it's impossible for them to do any one thing well. Exceptions are rare, but Emily Jumba is an incredible example of a student who truly has it all together. With an astonishing academic aptitude and an amazing ability to manage her time, Emily achieves excellence in all she undertakes with incredible composure, beautiful grace, and brilliance.

Emily is an extremely impressive student in AP Literature and Composition. She exudes genuine enthusiasm for learning that she pleasantly brings into the classroom every day. Emily warmly smiles and greets everyone with interest in their lives as well as the day's lesson. She is engaged in every task from individual assessments to small group work to whole class discussion. Her academic prowess is unparalleled. Thorough and detail-oriented, she works diligently with pride in her educational experience. With over 100% cumulative GPA and class rank of 7, she carries herself with humility and treats all students well. Immersed in Honors and AP classes for the critical thinking, creativity and high level of learning, she revels in challenging environments. As a student her success in scholastics has earned her the well-deserved respect of teachers and students, but also earning her recognition and awards at the local, state, and national level. However, dry data and test scores are a mere shadow of the magnitude of her complete character. The clarity of her connections and authenticity of her appreciation for all: art, science, history, dance, music, math, literature and writing is beautiful. She celebrates the joy of discovery and wealth of knowledge to much purer and deeper level than most I have taught. Articulate, aware, insightful, and honestly interested is how she presents herself daily.

Although Emily has an intense academic schedule, she still dedicates herself to many prominent leadership positions and community service activities. The Model UN, History Club, Spanish Club, Quiz Team, WIRC Team all have her at the helm as officer. Brimming with recognitions from her Girl Scouts Gold Award, Global Scholar, Select Orchestra and Ken & Jean's dancer, she is continually decorated with honors and requested to speak as a role model of our youth today. Her Butterfly Garden and PennDOT Innovations accomplishments were covered by local news media. With a remarkable zest for all life has to offer, she is regularly found serving or representing throughout the community in mature and noble ways. Emily pushes herself to personally excel with a wonderful focus on always giving back. She is valued as a judge at Science Fairs, a volunteer at the election polls, a mentor in Girl Scouts --- a complete role model in every way. Her desire to lead with hope for a brighter future transcends to all facets of her life. With compassion and comradery, she readily takes responsibility and always shines. Bedecked by accolades, Emily somehow is still so sincere and sweet.

Emily Jumba will undoubtedly prove to be a worthy recipient of this prestigious scholarship.

Very truly yours,

Jennifer L. Boyd
