To Whom It May Concern,

Dedicated, Intelligent, Indomitable! These are the words that describe Brady Hunker. I have known Brady for four years, and have served as his Advanced Placement United States History instructor, Government teacher, and National Honor Society advisor at Mount Pleasant Area Senior High School. I am very honored to write this letter on his behalf, and very proud as I recognize his potential positive impact on society as a student, person, and citizen.

Brady performed at a high level in my class, and his perfect grade point average ranks him in the top six of his class. His achievement is measured not only through academic grades, but the growth and maturity that spawned over this course. Most impressive is Brady's creative and analytical mind. His organization and logic skills, coupled with his desire to succeed, makes him the premier student to have in class. Mature and willing to learn, Brady's ability to use inductive and deductive methods of learning sets him apart from his peers. Other attributes of Brady include self-motivation, discipline, creativity, the desire to help others, and flexibility.

On a more personal note, Brady is a musically gifted young man, and has overcome bouts with cancer. He is more than a son, a student, or a friend – he is a fighter. Upon clearance from his doctors, the members of the National Honor Society and their parents and relatives, witnessed an unforgettable performance by Brady on the piano. Afterward, I told Brady how much of a hero he was to the hundreds of people in attendance and myself. During my own fight with cancer, Brady was my champion, making sure I was upbeat and positive throughout my ordeal, even though he was going through another bout himself. That type of sacrifice is unheard of in such a young man, and couple that with his hard work, I can only hope that my children turn out with half those qualities.

I absolutely recommend Brady Hunker; he will bring with him leadership, wisdom, and integrity to your scholarship. If you have any question regarding Brady's qualifications, please do not hesitate to contact me at (724) 547- 4100 x1215 at your convenience.

Sincerely,
